

Love & rain - no pain

Play in the puddles with rubber boots.

With our rainy wedding insurance, the sun shines for you on your wedding day even if it rains:

- ✓ We will indemnify you with £5,000 for rainy weather on your big day and the additional costs this could cause.
- ✓ The insurance provides cover if a rainfall threshold of 7.5 mm, that is 7.5 litres per square metre, is reached or exceeded within the time frame from 12:00 p.m. to 06:00 p.m.
- ✓ You can also opt for an extended insurance period.

This is how it works.

rainfall of 7.5 mm
or more in the period from 12:00 p.m.

to 06:00 p.m.

Single premium starting with £179

£5,000 lump sum
is paid

The premium is calculated based on your wedding date and location - for example:

Dorset House / West Sussex
mid June
premium approx. £179

Combermere Abbey / Cheshire beginning of May
premium approx. £217.56

Holmewood Hall / Holme
beginning of June
premium approx. £288.12

And this can be reached easily.

Normal rain  has an intensity of about 1 - 1.5 mm/h	Moderate rain  has an intensity of about 3 mm/h	Heavy rain  has an intensity of about 5 mm/h	Cloudburst  has an intensity of about 5 mm/min

The amount of rain is measured in the time frame from 12:00 p.m. to 06:00 p.m. If the rainfall threshold of 7.5 mm is reached within this time frame, the insurance pays.

Such an amount of rain is usually accumulated as a consequence of continuous rainfall or short heavy rain showers but rather not as a consequence of drip or drizzle.

For determining the amount of rain, the weather data is collected by our partner Athenium Analytics LLC, an independent company who provides access to historical and real-time global hourly data for 196 countries and all the oceans.

Please note that the calculated values may differ from those of other weather services or physical stations. In terms of an insurance pay-out, only the values calculated by Athenium Analytics LLC count.

Payment of the lump sum compensation

If it rains on your wedding day, you will receive the lump sum in the amount of the agreed sum insured for your free use.

The transfer is made within 5 working days from disclosure of your bank details.
